A GOOD COMPARISON.

The Rev William Roulatt, a well known Methodist clergyman, residing at Naples, draws the following amusing, but apt comparison between Dr C McLane's Vermifuge, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a ferret.

"A ferret when placed at the entrance of a rat hole, enters the aperture, travels along the passage, seizes upon the rat, exterminates his existence and draws the animal's defunct carcass to the light. And in like manner have I found Dr C McLane's Vermifuge to operate upon worms, those dreadful and dangerous tormentors of children. This remedy, like the ferret, enters the aperture of the mouth, travels down the gullet, hunts round the stomach and lays hold of the worms, shakes the life out of the reptiles, sweeps clean their den and carries their carcasses clear out of the system. This at least has been the effect of the Vermifuge upon my children."

SOCIETY SHOCKED AT CLEVELAND

Partial Success of the Railroad Strike. The Port Townsend Absconder Arrives at his Old Home—Heavy Failure

Senate

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Cameron offered a resolution naming the chairmen and members of the senate committees, as agreed upon by the caucuses, and asked immediate consideration, agreed to.

Ingalls offered a resolution calling upon the president for information in regard to the occupation of Oklahoma and what action was being taken in that regard. Under objection from Cockrell it went over until to-morrow.

After a short executive session the senate adjourned until Monday.

SENATE NOTES

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The president's message asking for return of the Nicaragua, Spanish and Dominican treaties was received by the senate to-day in executive session. The treaties will be returned to the executive at once, no action by the senate being required.

The message withdrawing the treaties is very short. It assigns no other reason for withdrawal than "for re-examination."

Senator Sherman has declined to serve upon the senate finance committee.

PROCLAMATION BY THE PRESIDENT

The Oklahoma Boomers Warned against Entering Indian Territory

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The following proclamation has been issued:

By the president of the United States of America: a proclamation.

WHEREAS, It is alleged that certain individuals, associations of persons and corporations are about to unlawfully enter [illegible] portions of the territory known as Oklahoma lands within the Indian territory which are designated, described and recognized by treaties and laws of the United States and by executive authority thereof as Indian lands; and

WHEREAS, It is further alleged that certain other persons or associations within the territory and jurisdiction of the United States have begun and set on foot preparations for organized and forcible entry and settlement upon the aforesaid lands, and are now threatening such entry and occupation; and

WHEREAS, The laws of the United States provide for the removal of all persons residing or being found upon such Indian lands and territory without permission expressly and legally obtained of the interior department, now therefore for the purpose of protecting the public interests, as well as the interests of Indian nations and tribes, and to the end that no person or persons may be induced to enter upon said territory where they will not be allowed to remain without permission of the authority aforesaid, I, Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, do hereby warn and admonish all and every person or persons now in occupation of such lands, and all such person or persons as are intending, preparing or threatening to enter and settle upon the same, that they will neither be permitted to enter upon said territory, nor if already there to remain thereon; and if due regard for and voluntary obedience to the laws and treaties of the United States, and this admonition and warning be not sufficient to effect the purposes and intentions of the government as herein declared, the military power of the United States will be invoked to abate all such unauthorized possession, to prevent such threatened occupation and to remove all such intruders from said Indian lands.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. GROVER CLEVELAND, President.
T. F. BAYARD, Secretary of State.

THE OKLAHOMA QUESTION

WASHINGTON, March 13.—In answer to a telegram from the secretary of war, relative to the exact condition of affairs in Oklahoma, General Hatch to-day telegraphed from Caldwell, Kansas, that no trespassers were now in the Indian territory. About 1200 hundred settlers, he said, were camped in Kansas, near the territory border. They were threatening to go over the line, but as yet had taken no steps of that kind. Troops are stationed in the territory, the general said, and will drive out any invaders that may attempt to settle on the lands.

At the meeting of the cabinet yesterday the Oklahoma question was considered at length. It was said an impression prevailed among those who contemplated invasion of the territory that President Arthur's proclamation relative to trespassing upon Indian lands had become inoperative with the close of his administration. To prevent action of the invaders, as would naturally ensue upon the prevalence of such impression, it was thought best that President Cleveland should issue a proclamation similar to that issued while Arthur was chief executive. This proclamation is now prepared, and will shortly be issued. It will forbid invasion upon Indian lands in Indian territory.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

SOCIETY CIRCLES DISGUSTED WITH CLEVELAND

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—Chronicle's Washington special: Society circles are terribly shocked at President Cleveland's plebeian habit of breakfasting at 8 o'clock and working in his shirt sleeves. He is credited with feeling a contempt for society as it is constituted here at the capital. His attitude in this respect is all the more noticeable when contrasted with the habits of his predecessor. Mr Arthur's administration was a continued delight to society people. With his courtly manners his æsthetic tables and bevy of charming ladies in the fragrant parlors, the White house grew to be a sort of Windsor castle, to be admitted to which all society people felt honored. They are now disposed to look upon Cleveland as a crusty old bachelor, with severe ideas of business and a real contempt for society. Therefore society feels a little rebellious, and some of its leaders have already resolved to keep away from the White house altogether. People who are well acquainted with the president say that this resolve, if faithfully kept, will afford him almost as much satisfaction as the withdrawal of the politicians.

RECEPTION IN THE BLUE ROOM

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The president received members of the diplomatic corps and ladies of their families in the Blue parlor of the executive mansion this afternoon. He was assisted by his sisters, Miss Cleveland and Mrs. Hoyt. Members of the cabinet and ladies of their families were also in attendance. The visitors were formally presented to the president and ladies of his family by the secretary of state. The reception lasted about an hour, and all foreign representatives called to pay their respects.

THE HAZEN COURT MARTIAL

WASHINGTON, March 13.—In the Hazen court-martial the attorney for the defense created a sensation by declaring that certain newspaper articles derogatory to General Hazen would be traced to Secretary Lincoln's desk, and to his hand.

With some unimportant testimony from Captain Mills of the signal office, the prosecution rested its case. The defense had not concluded the examination of Hudson when the court adjourned.

NOMINATIONS

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The following nominations have been made: Colonel Nelson H. Davis, inspector general, to be inspector general with the rank of brigadier general; Lieutenant Colonel Absalom Baird, inspector general, to be inspector general with the rank of colonel; Major Robert P. Hughes, to be inspector general with the rank of lieutenant colonel. The senate confirmed Charles S. Fairchild, of New York, as assistant secretary of the treasury.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS ON A CHARGE OF MURDER

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., March 13.—To-day at Vernon and vicinity, Captain Schmidt of the State rangers, arrested twenty-five men on charges of murder, many of whom stand high in the community. It is claimed the men constituted a secret vigilance organization, and four recent murders are attributed to them. The wholesale arrest creates great excitement throughout the Panhandle.

NEVIN ARRIVES AT HIS OLD HOME.

ADRIAN, Mich., March 13.—Thomas J. Nevin, ex-mayor, who absconded three years ago, and was traced to Prescott, Arizona Territory, where he remained two months, thence going to San Francisco, thence to old and New Mexico, thence to Whatcom, Washington Territory, and thence to Fort Townsend, Washington Territory, where he lived for one year, arrived here to-day. An immense crowd gathered at the station, but the train was stopped at Main street crossing, and officers took their charge to the county jail. Nevin, although in good spirits, refused to say much about his crime, his whereabouts or his adventures.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS

INDIAN TROUBLES IN NEW MEXICO

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 13.—A letter just received from Fort Apache brings news of an expected Indian outbreak there, and that troops are kept in readiness for instant action. The trouble originates as follows: A Chiricahua, who is in prison under Indian guards, for the murder of a white man two years ago, attempted to escape last Friday. One guard, a White mountain Apache, called upon him to stop, and on refusal brought his gun to bear on the escaping man, when another guard, a Chiricahua and cousin of the murderer, placing a rifle against the abdomen of the other guard, literally cut him in two. White mountain braves are gathering for vengeance, and serious trouble is anticipated.

CLEVELAND'S CIVIL SERVICE POLICY.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The Sun this morning bristles with points against Cleveland's civil service policy. It advises Cleveland to stand by the democracy, and let the mugwumps go.

The Herald's Washington special says Cleveland yesterday emphatically declared that he will carry out civil service reform. Both Hendricks and Voorhees dissented most emphatically from the positions of the president, and especially from the purpose he announced of making changes very slowly, and only in those classes of offices in which every one expects a change almost at once, with the administration making them. The president's views, if carried out, will not, speaking generally, give offices much faster than commissions expire.

A VERY COMPLICATED DIVORCE CASE

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—John J. Miller, in 1849, married Elizabeth S. Rogers. The result of the union was four children. They were divorced and Mrs. Miller married Robert E. Randall, brother of Samuel J. Randall. The latter soon procured a second divorce, and remarried her first husband, who meantime became a well known sporting man. Mrs. Miller, for the third time, secured divorce, now alleged by collusion. Mrs. Viola Bonavita, wife of Frank J. Bonavita, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Miller, hearing of the collusion entered into by her father and mother, in derogation of her own rights, brings an action in the courts to have the divorce set aside.

GENERAL GRANT'S CONDITION.

NEW YORK, March 13.—With the exception of brief spells of wakefulness, General Grant passed a comfortable night. When he retired he complained of a dull pain in one ear and his head. He did not get up till late this morning.

NEW YORK, March 13.—General Grant slept a good deal to-day. He took food frequently, and asked for it. His pulse and temperature are about the same. His general condition is more favorable.

THE RAILROAD STRIKE.

THE STRIKERS WIN AT PALESTINE

GALVESTON, Tex., March 13.—News' Palestine, Tex., special: The strike at this place ended this afternoon. Superintendent Herrin sent for the executive committee of the workingmen's union who immediately waited upon him. The result of the conference was an order to resume work to-morrow morning on old terms, as before the last cut. An agreement to this effect has been signed by Superintendent Herrin, Master Mechanic Morris and the strikers' committee. Also, if extra time is put in they are to receive extra pay. This agreement only extends to the International and Great Northern branch of the Gould system. The workingmen are greatly elated over the victory, being congratulated on all sides for accomplishing the end without violence.

THE SITUATION AT DENISON

GALVESTON, March 13.—A Denison special says: At a mass meeting last night the strikers adopted resolutions calling for the removal of Vice President Hoxie, and put a man in his stead who has a little feeling for suffering humanity. It was declared the sense of the meeting that the company should furnish competent physicians in charge of hospitals and make a quarterly report of expenditures to a committee of employes. It is reported to-night that Sheriff Douglass is raising a posse of men to come from Sherman to-morrow to restore order and help move freights. A conflict is feared, as Douglas is a brave officer.

GOVERNOR MARMADUKE ISSUES A WARNING

ST. LOUIS, March 13.—Governor Marmaduke issued a proclamation late last night, warning the strikers and all persons associated with them that interfering with the movement of engines and trains, and intimidation of other persons who may be willing or desire to work, is unlawful, and calling upon county and municipal officers to promptly enforce the law, and commanding all individuals or combinations of individuals in any way engaged or concerned in interfering with the free traffic of railroads, or in the intimidation of their employes, to desist at once and without further warning.

IMPORTANT MEETING TO BE HELD

ST. LOUIS, March 13.—At a private conference of Vice President Hayes and General Solicitor Brown of the Gould lines about strike matters, held here to-day, a telegram was received from Governor Martin of Kansas, saying he would be here Sunday with the railroad commissioners of Kansas to discuss the situation. Governor Marmaduke of Missouri will also attend. It is expected the meeting will determine the future action of the two states and the railroads toward the strikers, and statu quo will be maintained till then by the road.

STRIKE IN GEORGIA.

MACON, Ga., March 13.—All engineers on the Brunswick division of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad, struck to-night. The strikers are members of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers, and they say the cause of the strike is unjust discharge of three men.

UNCHANGED AT MARSHALL.

MARSHALL, Tex., March 13.—The strike is unchanged. It is the general impression a settlement will be reached within twenty four hours.

FAILURES

HEAVY FAILURE AT BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE, March 13.—Pope, Cole & Co., dealers in metals, have made an assignment to William Keyser for the benefit of their creditors. Their liabilities are stated to be $1,000,000. Pope, Cole & Co. are dealers in metals of all kinds. The firm are also managers of copper smelting works, which it is said will not be affected by the troubles of Pope, Cole & Co. Interested parties refuse to say anything on the subject. A meeting was held to-day of parties interested, but no information could be had. It is now said the assets will probably reach within $150,000 of the liabilities.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES.

England and Russsia Reach an Agreement.

RUSSIA TO HOLD HER GROUND

Several Fenians and Anarchists Ejected from France. Bismarck Makes a Speech in the Reichstag. War News, Etc.

LONDON, March 13.—In the house of commons this afternoon Gladstone announced that an agreement had been arrived at between Russia and England by the terms of which neither the Russian nor the Afghan forces would advance any farther on either side of the frontier.

Sir Stafford Northcote asked whether this agreement was a permanent or a temporary arrangement.

Gladstone replied that the agreement was without any specific limit. The best description he could give was that the agreement was to last as long as there was occasion for it. [Laughter.] This agreement provides against a rupture of the friendly relations between the two governments in the event of a collision between the Afghan and Russian outposts, which might possibly occur while instructions were being conveyed to the opposing commanders.

TERMS OF THE AGREEMENT.

The arrangement between England and Russia, announced by Gladstone in the commons this afternoon, was concluded to-day. It resulted in the decision of the cabinet not to insist upon the withdrawal of Russian troops from outposts during the deliberations of the joint commission. Baron De Staal yesterday sent a denial to Granville and De Giers of the report that troops were concentrating at Askabad. He also protested against preparations for war, which it is reported are now being made in England, and demonstrations upon the Indian frontier, which, he said, were calculated to lessen the chances of an amicable settlement. Consequent upon the agreement, Baron De Staal to-day informed Granville that he was ready to sign the Egyptian convention.

A FEELING OF RELIEF.

Members of commons heard Gladstone's announcement of an agreement between England and Russia with almost a general sense of relief, the agreement affording reason to hope that war would yet be averted by diplomatic means. It is believed Sir Peter Lumsden has the Afghans sufficiently under control to prevent a collision between the Afghan and Russian outposts, pending a pacific settlement of the dispute. Some prominent conservatives, however, point out that the agreement will not prevent Russia from massing troops on the border of debatable territory, and they object to the Russians being allowed to remain, even temporarily, on territory claimed to belong to Afghanistan.

PREPARING FOR AN EMERGENCY.

The war department is making preparations with a view to the possible occurrence of serious trouble in Afghanistan. Orders have been sent to the arsenals at Bombay and Bengal to prepare all kinds of ammunition. Details for two army corps are already completed. Each will number 1500 officers, 35,300 men and 11,800 horses. The admiralty is making arrangements to have a fleet of transports in readiness.

THE BRITISH WILL OCCUPY HERAT

LONDON, March 13.—Advices from Teheran state that Sir Peter Lumsden is encamped on Persian territory not far from Herat. The expectation is that he will enter Herat in case the Russians make any further advance.

THE LONDON MARKETS.

LONDON, March 13.—Consols made a further slight decline at 4 this afternoon. 96 7/8 for money, 97 for account.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

LONDON, March 14.—The Standard says: "The agreement between England and Russia leaves the essence of the difficulty untouched. Matters must have been bad when such an agreement was paraded as a diplomatic gain. Many consider this pause in the situation the prelude to surrender."

The News still fears for the result of negotiations between England and Russia, and is doubtful of a peaceful solution.

A Russian official military paper announces that Kouna and Assowzo, Poland, will be formed into first-class fortresses. Both are near the Prussian frontier, and control two important railways.

I also there writes if England and Russia cannot agree in defining the frontier they ought to ask America to arbitrate.

ANOTHER ALLY FOR ENGLAND.

An Arabian paper states that the khan of Beloochistan has offered the services of his army to the British government, in the event of war with Russia.

BARON MOHRENHEIM SPEAKS.

PARIS, March 13.—Baron Mohrenheim, Russian ambassador, has been interviewed in regard to the present Anglo-Russian situation. He expressed the opinion that Emperor William would exert his influence to avert war and also endeavor to induce England to make some concession. He scouted the idea that Russia would withdraw her troops from positions at present occupied. Such action would reflect dishonor upon the Russian arms. In case England did not declare war, it was certain, in his opinion, that Russia would not do so. He thought it extremely unlikely England would declare war, as she has her hands full already. DeGiers, Russian prime minister, is animated by a desire for peace. The influence of the war party in Russia has diminished since the death of Gen. Skobeleff.

WAR TALK FROM RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 13.—The governor of Caucasus, General Dondoukoff Korsakoff, has returned to Tiflis. The tone of the Russian press continues extremely bellicose, and open declarations are made that Russia intends to have Herat. The Novoe Vremya calls the approaching meeting of Lord Dufferin and the ameer of Afghanistan a military demonstration on Russian frontiers. "Russia and England," the writer continues, "will soon meet on dry land and the result will be that the isolated security hitherto enjoyed by the British empire will be destroyed."

THE CZAR'S REMARKS

ST. PETERSBURG, March 13.—The czar of Russia said to-night, during an informal talk with several diplomats at an imperial levee: "I cannot conceive that any but the wildest dreamer could think I would declare war against England. Our ends can be attained and will be attained, but will be by the gradual powers of civilization, and not by force."

THE SOUDAN

THE SITUATION AT SUAKEM

CAIRO, March 13.—General Graham has decreed that inhabitants of Suakem be disarmed, as he has reason to apprehend treachery. Hereafter any unenlisted native found with arms will be treated as a rebel.

Dispatches from Suakem state that mutiny has broken out in Osman Digma's camp. Deserters bring terrible tales of suffering among the Arabs, and say Osman Digna is only able to maintain authority by a system of terrorism, which includes beheading a few mutineers every morning at sunrise.

EL MAHDI'S FEARS

KORTI, March 13.—A report is current among natives to the effect that El Mahdi has evacuated Metemneh. The reason alleged for the step is El Mahdi fears an invasion is about to be made into the Soudan from Abyssinia.

ITALY'S AID

NAPLES, March 13.—Six torpedo boats have been ordered to the Red sea. It is said also that orders have been received here for the speedy dispatch of 12,000 troops to the Red sea.

WILL OPPOSE GENERAL GRAHAM

SUAKEM, March 13.—Osman Digma is concentrating a large force at Tamanieb to oppose the advance of General Graham towards Berber.

GERMANY

BISMARCK ADDRESSES THE REICHSTAG

BERLIN, March 13.—During a debate in the reichstag to-day, on the steamship subsidy bill Bismarck said that even without a colonial policy, subsidized lines to the east would be useful to Germany, and if the house should reject the grant for one or the other of the proposed lines the government would thankfully accept the remainder as an installment. Replying to Bamberger's objections to colonizing ventures, Bismarck declared there was a good prospect of building up a thriving mining industry at Angra Pequena, and of obtaining a supply of cotton from German produce sent to Cameroons and New Guinea colonies. He stated that negotiations with England regarding Cameroons territory were making gratifying progress.

In concluding his speech Bismarck said that since God's blessing had crowned the policy of Germany for twenty years, and as Germans had withstood the foe in 1870 as a nation of brothers, a spirit of party strife and confessed dissension must not now be allowed to ruin the newly founded empire. These words were received with great cheering in all parts of the house.

EXTRADITION TREATY SANCTIONED

BERLIN, March 13.—The Russian government has formally sanctioned a reciprocal treaty between Germany and Russia, for extradition of conspirators against the lives of royal personages.

FRANCE

STRONG CRUSADE AGAINST FENIANS

PARIS, March 13.—An immense sensation was caused by the stand which the authorities have taken toward Fenian agitators. In addition to the arrests of James Stephens, Eugene Davis and John Morrissey yesterday, the police this morning arrested a journalist named Martimer Leroy, and another Fenian, name not learned. Mrs. Stephens was also arrested, but subsequently released. All persons now under arrest will be expelled from the country to-day. Warrants for the expulsion of other Fenian leaders have been issued, and further arrests are expected.

Stephens, Davis, Morrissey and Leroy were taken to the frontier of France to-day and warned not to return.

Stephens, Davis and Leroy, and two anarchists, who were expelled from France, have gone into Belgium. Morrissey was allowed to remain in Paris.

A PROTEST

PARIS, March 14.—L'Intransigeant protests against the expulsion of Stephens, Davis and Leroy. The action indicates that Ferry is ready to outrage the liberties of refugees who have sought an asylum in France. A thing which the ministers of the empire would never have dreamed of doing. Stephens' wife was not allowed to have an interview with him after the arrest.

CANADA

TO RELIEVE THE CANADIAN PACIFIC.

OTTAWA, March 13.—Among the different proposals for relief of the Canadian Pacific railroad the one that meets with most favor, and that will probably be acted upon, contemplates the issue of $30,000,000 worth of bonds, the stockholders to take one half and the government the other half, in cancellation of a similar amount of the loan of last session, by a sale to the government of 10,000,000 acres of land, at $1 50 per acre. With the $15,000,000 received from the shareholders the company hopes to be able to complete and equip the road.

Senator Ross has verified a rumor in reference to the sale of the North Shore railway to the federal government. The sale was made yesterday for $5,000,000, the transfer to take place immediately. This gives the Canadian Pacific railroad an Atlantic terminus.

THE "PRINCE OF WALES" SAFE.

MONTREAL, March 13.—Word has just been received from the ship Prince of Wales, from Moose factory, Hudson Bay, October last, with a valuable cargo of furs for London. The information comes by dog train, that after a trying and difficult time the vessel reached Charlton island, about sixty miles from Moose factory. The crew are all safe and wintering in the Hudson islands.

THE WAR IN CHINA.

WILL MARCH UPON PEKIN

PARIS, March 13.—It is reported that members of the government are convinced of the necessity of marching upon Pekin. The government will shortly ask for a grant of $10,000,000 to provide for the dispatch of 25,000 men to China.

A MEDICAL JOURNAL DEFENDS TOBACCO

LONDON, March 13.—The British Medical Journal denies the possibility of smoking having caused the cancer with which Grant is afflicted. The Journal says that the risk of cancer in the throat incurred by smokers is infinitely small, and it denounces the anti-tobacconists for seeking to make capital of the sufferings of a great man.

IN HONOR OF GENERAL GORDON.

DEATH OF THE PRESIDENT OF COSTA RICA.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, (via Galveston) March 13.—General Don Prospero Fernandez, president of Costa Rica, died suddenly here this morning.

BAKING POWDER TRAMPS

The danger to the public health from the indiscriminate use of the many lime and alum baking powders of commerce has been so fully exposed that everybody desires to avoid them. As "forewarned is forearmed," housekeepers will thank us for apprising them of the special efforts at present being made to dispose of such powders in this vicinity.

The proprietors of some of the worst of these powders are now going from house to house, trying by means of a trick, or so-called test, with heat and water, to show that their article is as good as the Royal Baking Powder, making the comparison with this brand because everybody recognizes it to be absolutely pure and wholesome, the object, of course, being to supply their own goods in place of the Royal, which housekeepers have for so many years relied upon to puff up the morning biscuit, and to make the light, palatable and wholesome roll cake, and pastry for which it is famous.

The housekeeper will do well to be on her guard against these baking powder tramps. Every intelligent person knows that any goods peddled from house to house in this manner, or that are given away in samples, or sought to be introduced by secretly traducing the character of other goods well known to be pure and reliable, have no merits of their own and have failed to find purchasers through legitimate means.

We are informed, as a matter of fact, that one of these tramps is trying to introduce a powder that has been found by the government chemist to be 11 86 per cent. lime, while the other peddles a powder that is 20 per cent. alum—one a powerful caustic, the other a corrosive poison.

No such tricks or jugglery will be apt to deceive any intelligent person. The housekeeper who has used her Royal Baking Powder ever since she discarded cream of tartar and soda, knows more about its qualities than all the tramps in the country can teach her. The crucial test to which she has put the Royal Baking Powder—the test of actual and successful work in the preparation of pure and wholesome food under which it has never failed—is entirely satisfactory to her. She has always had "good luck" with it in making light, sweet, and delicious bread, biscuit and cake, and has placed it, first, at the head of her housekeeping favorites. She knows that it has been officially approved by the government chemists as the best, and we imagine that the baking powder tramp who attempts to supplant its place in her confidence will find this a bad year for his business.

"VALUED POLICY" LEGISLATION IN IDAHO.—A bill somewhat similar to the one introduced at the last session of the Oregon legislature relating to valued insurance policies, has passed the Idaho legislature. Several general agencies here include northern Idaho as part of the field over which they have supervision, and yesterday orders were sent to agents in the territory instructing them to write no more policies on buildings. Insurance company representatives state that similar action would have been taken in this state, had the valued policy bill become a law.

NEWS ITEMS FROM SEATTLE.

SEATTLE, March 12.—The steamer Gazelle is reported burned on the Stillaguamish river today. No particulars as yet.

Sheriff McGraw has just gone to arrest William Miller, an insane man residing on the east side of lake Washington. He was arrested on the same charge before, but was discharged on last Monday by Probate Judge Wood, but on his return home he became so violent that the sheriff has gone to rearrest him.

THE NEW TOWN OF NORTH YAKIMA.

NORTH YAKIMA, March 13.—The progress of this town is wonderful, and each day sees a marked advance. To-day Paul Schulze, general land agent, let a contract for an irrigating ditch to supply each street with running water from the Natchez river, also a contract for planting 2000 shade trees. Four more buildings will be removed from the old town next week. The population is increasing at the rate of twenty five per day.

CALIFORNIA

RESPECTING THE ECLIPSE.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—Respecting the annular eclipse of the sun, which will take place on Monday next, the 16th, S. R. Franklin, rear admiral of the United States navy, and superintendent of the United States naval observatory at Washington, has issued notice that through the courtesy of the Western Union telegraph company the noon signals from the observatory will be sent on the 15th and 16th of March over the telegraph wires, as far west as Helena, Boise City, Sacramento and Delta, affording an opportunity to observers to obtain the correct time. The superintendent requests reports of observations, which will be gladly received.

CLEARY DEFEATS BRADY

A hard-glove fight between Mike Cleary of New York and Jack Brady, local champion heavy weight, was fought this evening at the Mechanics' pavilion. The battle was short and decisive. Brady was knocked down three times. He failed to come to time on the third knockdown, and the battle was given to Cleary. Time, two minutes and twenty seconds.

THE TRANSCONTINENTAL ASSOCIATION

Owing to new troubles in freight rates, Acting Commissioner Cannon of the Transcontinental association has issued notices for a special meeting, to be held at Denver on the 20th instant. It is believed that the general managers of all pool lines will be present, and that a satisfactory solution of all freight troubles will be reached.

A SMALL STRIKE.

A strike occurred at the Potrero rolling mills in this city to-day. Fifteen helpers refused to continue work, on announcement that their wages would be reduced from $1 15 to $1 a day.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

NEWS ITEMS FROM VICTORIA.

VICTORIA, March 13.—For the past ten days no Chinese have come on the Sound boats. The authorities are awaiting the arrival of the next Sound steamer, anticipating a big haul of the contraband article.

Drafts drawn on the Canadian Pacific syndicate at the east have been returned dishonored. It is reported that the imperial government will come to the help of the Canadian Pacific and assist them in completing the railway, so that troops and munitions of war may be transported through British territory to the Pacific, and thence to India.

The Gates farm house, built thirty years ago, was destroyed by fire at noon to-day.

SALEM NOTES.

SALEM, March 13.

Frank N. Gilbert of Portland is visiting relatives and friends in the city.

Mr. Frank E. Parmenter is lying seriously ill at his parents' residence in this city.

A. T. Yeaton, our well known furniture dealer, is daily expected home from an extended visit in the eastern states.

A movement is already on foot toward the organization of a new military company in this city which it is to be hoped may be successful.

Fred T. Merrill has given Salemites two evening exhibitions of his skill as a bicyclist at the rink this week, which were liberally patronized.

Inquiries are numerous as to when work will be commenced on the various state buildings, appropriations for which were provided by the last legislature.

Ex-Senator Nesmith's condition shows slight improvement and hopes are entertained that he will soon be able to return home and be cared for by his family.

William G. Stanton, Frank Reider, Lewis Prettyman and others, started this morning for eastern Washington territory, where they have purchased land and will hereafter make their future home.

Mrs. Thomas Cross, widow of the late Thomas Cross, who is now in the eastern states, contemplates returning to Oregon for the purpose of securing a position as teacher in some of our public schools.

Loyal B. Stearns, the newly appointed circuit judge of the fourth judicial district, was in the city on Tuesday last and qualified as such by taking the oath of office before Hon. J. A. Stratton, clerk of the supreme court.

Judge Humphrey of Albany came down this morning and reports the Albany Fire Department as already taking steps to send a large delegation to the state firemen's tournament to be held at Astoria in June next.

George Collins, the superintendent of the Oregon state penitentiary, having recently purchased the Wall property, corner of Court and Church streets, contemplates the erection of a residence thereon at an early date.

The trustees of the M. E. church for Adams circuit, Columbia river conference, have filed articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state. Capital stock, $2,500; incorporators: S. L. Burrill, J. J. Adams, H. B. A. Hales.

Governor Moody has recently made the following executive appointments: Alvin Phelps, Oretown; C. A. Schlbrede, Oakland; C. W. Fulton, Astoria; W. G. Jenne, Jas. S. Reed, E. E. Long and G. G. Ames of Portland; J. W. Westport, Jas. H. Raley, Pendleton, and P. A. Cammann of Malheur City, notaries public; and Chas. Nettleton of 115 Broadway, New York, commissioner for Oregon.

The near approach of the day set for the execution of the murderer Drake makes the subject a theme of very general comment. Many of our citizens are urging executive clemency and Governor Moody has set Monday next for listening to argument in his favor. He has a very strong petition in his behalf and no effort will be spared to secure executive interference.

The weather has been simply magnificent for several days past, but indications point to more rain at an early day.

The assessment and census rolls for the various counties in the state are being made by the state printer, under the supervision of the secretary of state, and the latter will be ready for distribution at an early day. The change in the time of the meeting of the legislature, the attendant amount of work it involves for the state printer, and the probability existing that it might make some important changes in the assessment law, is the reason for the unusual delay in the work.

THE SCHOOL BOARD

Complimentary Resolutions to the Retiring Director and Clerk—The Free Kindergarten Asks for Aid—Rule 18 Amended.

A regular meeting of the board of school directors was held in the council chamber yesterday afternoon, Mr. Wadhams presiding. The following claims against the district were ordered paid: Janitors for February, $160; rent for Central school, $350; rent for superintendent's office, $10; clerks and judges of election, $40; for making two copies of list of taxpayers for use of election judges, $20.

Allowances were made on the assessment roll for 1884 to J. Nelson $1550, and C. B. Smith $3500, for indebtedness, proper certificates having been presented by them.

An application of Peter Fredrickson for position as janitor, was ordered filed.

A communication was received from Mrs. Dunlap, superintendent of the free kindergarten, asking for an appropriation from the board to assist in the worthy cause, such appropriation to supplement private charity. The letter stated in concise language the benefits of the kindergarten system. Referred to Messrs. Wilson and Dodd.

A canvass was made of the vote for school director and school clerk, which did not differ from the returns published in Tuesday's OREGONIAN.

Hon. D. P. Thompson was declared elected director, and T. T. Struble clerk. Mr. Thompson presented his oath of office, which was filed, and he took his seat.

Mr. Struble presented his oath and his bond for $30,000, with James Steel, Van B. DeLashmutt and J. H. Jones as sureties. The bond was approved and given to Mr. Dodd for safe-keeping.

COMPLIMENTARY RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Wasserman offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this board be tendered our retiring chairman, Mr. Wm. Wadhams, for the valuable and untiring services rendered this school district during seven years past. We feel now that we will miss his cheerful patience and experience on many occasions, and hope that ere long the taxpayers will call him again, knowing no one else so peculiarly well fitted for the office.

Mr. Dodd moved the following, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this board of school directors be tendered to Wm. Church, Jr., the retiring clerk, who has served the school district faithfully for the past three years and whose relations with the board have always been of the most pleasant and cordial nature.

Permission was granted to Professor L. F. Henderson of the High school to absent himself from the teachers' institutes and from other school duties on Friday afternoons, in order that he might follow up his botanical researches through the country.

An advance in the salary of Miss Sophie Lawrence was ordered, upon the report of the city superintendent.

Permission was granted to Mrs. L. M. Spaulding of North school to hold school one hour longer each day, provided the parents of the children in her room give written consent to having the children stay the extra hour. [This was asked, for on the ground that the scholars had "got behind" last winter under another teacher and the extra hour would enable them to catch up.]

Rule 18 was amended to read as follows: "Provided that in the case of the discharge or resignation of any teacher at any time prior to the close of the school year, it is hereby made the duty of the city superintendent to withhold the pay of such teacher until the principal under whom such teacher taught has certified in writing that all papers, books and other school property have been delivered or satisfactorily accounted for. Provided further that at the close of each school year no part of the pay roll for the last school month shall be delivered to the school clerk until respective principals have certified to the same effect for each and every teacher."

Miss Butler and Miss Hill were excused for non-attendance at the last institute.

Adjourned until this evening for the special purpose of examining the plans and specifications for finishing the new high school.

ALBANY NOTES.

ALBANY, March 13.

The city council will meet next Thursday evening as a board of equalization.

The ladies of the M. E. church will give a sociable at the residence of Mr. Isaac Conn next Tuesday evening.

Judge Boise delivered a long speech at the courthouse last evening on the "Hoult Bill" and other measures brought before the last legislature.

The sociable given at the Evangelical church last evening by the lady members of that congregation was largely attended and proved a very enjoyable affair.

A. M. Young and brother, of Scio, have purchased the custom mills of this city of Charles Turner. Mr. Turner will remove to a dryer climate for the benefit of his wife's health.

"Flower of the Family" will be presented at Crawford's opera house one evening next week by home talent. The proceeds will be given to the Albany City band for the purchase of music and other necessities.

All the old soldiers who hold honourable discharges are invited to attend a reunion to be held at L. H. Montanye's law office to-morrow evening for the purpose of reorganizing McPherson post No 5 G. A. R.

The stockholders of the Odd Fellows Hall Building Association met last evening and elected the following directors to serve the ensuing year: T. J. States, W. C. Tweedale, J. F. Backensto, G. H. Burkhart, J. Gradwohl, Fred. Graf and Charles Keifer.

On next Sunday morning at the Baptist church the first anniversary services of the pastorate of Rev. Brownson will be held, and in the evening the anniversary of the Sabbath school will be celebrated by appropriate services by the scholars of the school.

A 10-year-old son of Mr. Samuel F. Crooks, living in the forks of the Santiam, started out with his father on Tuesday morning to cut timber. He stumbled and fell, and the ax he was carrying came down in such a manner as to cut off the middle finger of his right hand at the middle joint.

On Friday evening of next week Mrs. Dr. Owens-Adair of your city will lecture at Crawford's opera house under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. Her subject will be "The necessity of instruction in our public schools upon the evils of alcohol and hereditary diseases resulting from its use."

Following are the members of the grand jury at the present term of the circuit court: G. F. Crawford, foreman; F. M. Daniel, A. B. Morris, Jesse Archibald, D. C. Currie, M. C. Galloway, J. A. McKinney. Harry Boyles was indicted yesterday for the robbery of Otto Salinger's store on Front street.

At the last session of the city council the committee on fire and water made a report recommending the division of the city into six fire wards, and that signals for the same be adopted. In accordance with the report the city has been divided as follows: First, north of Fourth street and west of Ferry; second, north of Fourth between Ferry and Baker; third, north of First street and east of Baker; fourth, south of Fourth and west of Ferry; fifth, south of Fourth between Ferry and Baker; sixth, south of Fourth and east of Baker. Signals will be sounded after the general alarm and will be one tap for each number of the ward, that is, one tap for first ward, two taps for second ward, etc.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 14, 1885

SPECIAL NOTICE

Through courtesy of [illegible] with the New York Sun THE OREGONIAN is able to announce that its Sunday issues of March 15 and 22 will contain a lot of hitherto unpublished [illegible] documents of most interest and historical character. These papers belong to the latest period of the [illegible] war and throw an important light on questions that are still unsettled. They include official communications between the governors of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina with reports of agents and officers, and telegrams and dispatches from General Lee and President Davis. There are also letters from private citizens of distinction like William Gilmore Simms and A. P. Aldrich. The documents are extremely interesting and valuable and will be published by THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN simultaneously with their appearance in New York. They will occupy from twelve to fourteen columns and will be given in two installments—March 15 and 22. Send for THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN containing them.

THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN

To-morrow's issue of THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN will contain a number of special features of great value. By special arrangement the first installment of a series of interesting and hitherto unpublished letters relating to important events of the late civil war will be made public for the first time and added to the historical literature of that great conflict. H. F. Suksdorf contributes a series of "Observations in Eastern Europe" gathered from a tour of Austria-Hungary and Russia. The first part of a continued story by Edgar Fawcett, one of the brightest of the present generation of authors, will be an important feature. It is called "Miss Thorndyke's Conscience," and is written expressly for THE OREGONIAN. The much abused proof reader will find an able champion in the author of "Men of Mark," and indignant writers may find therein an incentive to moderate their usual condemnation. A little tale of pioneer times, a sketch of life and love in the early days of Ohio by Donn Piatt, and a number of other original features will make the issue one of much interest. The usual amount of news will be given and the regular features not be neglected.

THE CHANGE OF PARTIES

Time will demonstrate—it has already begun to demonstrate—how little necessity there was, looking at the matter even from a democratic point of view, for change in the administration of the government. Democrats find that they cannot conduct the government upon the old principles and methods of their party. They must conduct it substantially upon republican principles and methods. Though the republican party is out of power, the controlling ideas of the country are republican, not democratic. Neither in methods nor in objects of administration can the democratic party make any considerable change. There could be no more signal proof of the fact that the general tenor of republican administration has been proper, judicious and correct.

Some show doubtless will be made of dismissing supernumeraries from the public service, and these dismissals will be heralded to the country, but this will merely be a method of "working" one set of men out and another set of men in, since the places made vacant will be filled slyly and without public announcement, and the supernumeraries will be in fact quite as plenty as ever. It cannot be the settled purpose of an administration directed by such men as Manning, Whitney and Vilas to carry out the doctrine that no man shall be dismissed from office merely because he is a republican, and no man appointed to office merely because he is a democrat. The relations of these men to politics hitherto do not permit that conclusion to be accepted.

What the public service is in all its departments it has been made by republicans during the long period of their administration. Business is done with a precision unknown in earlier days. New methods have been adopted to facilitate business, and new checks to secure honest work in all branches of the service have been provided. Accounts cannot be loosely carried, nor settlements loosely made. Rules and regulations, as anyone knows who has had anything to do with public business in recent years, are rigorous and inflexible. The public business, in the main, has been honestly conducted. We believe that under the republican system it will, in the main, be honestly conducted by the democrats. But in the wide field of national policy the impression produced by the republican party is greater still. From this new regime the democratic party cannot depart and survive. What the republican party has done for the country is seen in no recent utterance so clearly and fully as in President Cleveland's inaugural address. The tone and spirit of that address were the fruit of the general excellence of republican administration during a quarter of a century, and at the same time the highest possible testimonial to its worthiness. The high ideal which the new president announced owed its origin and growth to republican methods and republican progress. The country is exacting, chiefly because the republican party has taught it to be so.

As for the great ideas that have characterized the period of republican ascendency, they have been so fully wrought into the life of the country that there can be no real departure from them—unless the democratic party is prepared to commit suicide. Since these things are undeniable, it must be apparent how little necessity there was for change of parties in the administration of the government. Democratic politicians unless they can get the offices they covet, will see no reason at all for the change.

PERILS IN EUROPE

The European situation assumes a graver aspect daily, and it is evident to all who have watched the course of events and their tendency during the past three years that a climax must be reached before many weeks or months. There are reasons for believing that this state of affairs has been the result of systematic effort on the part of Bismarck to advance the standing of Germany as a political and commercial power as against England, and by skillful manipulation of the continental powers to array them against the only rival Germany would then have in continental affairs. The triple alliance of Germany, Austria and Russia, arranged at the meeting of the three emperors at Skiernewice last year has never been fully explained, but that great questions were discussed and decided has been made plain by subsequent events. An attempt was made to bring Italy into the coalition, and for a time it appeared successful. France had set foot in Tunis, and it was felt that Italy had been robbed of a legitimate possession. The prospective coalition met with favor, and even the long standing enmity to Austria was softened by the aggressiveness of France. But it was shortly seen that Germany's advances were solely political, and not based upon ties of friendship. It was learned at Rome that Bismarck looked upon Italy's army and navy with contempt, and valued the advice and support of Austria far more than Austria's enemy. As a consequence the enthusiasm of the Italians rapidly waned. France, the only other European power worthy of mention, has been encouraged, in obedience to the same plan of action, to waste its resources in other fields of conquest, and a watchful eye kept upon every move of political significance it has made. The Tunisian affair was commended, in that it seemed to place beyond the range of possibility all prospect of such a coalition as that by which Napoleon made memorable the early years of the century. And to this fact is probably due the neglect of Germany to take a stronger interest in the accession of Italy to the combination of continental powers.

The situation has now reached a point where every move on the political chessboard is watched with anxiety by the entire civilized world. The armies of Germany, Austria and Russia are ready to be moved in any direction with ease and en masse. France has weakened its forces by the Tonquin expedition and England's army is scattered in the four quarters of the globe. Italy is the only power that has its forces intact and at easy disposal. By its recent action in supporting England in Egypt it is possible a coalition of the two powers may be counted on in case of a general war. It is apparent that an understanding of some kind has been arrived at between them. This is, therefore, a possibility to be considered, but if appearances only are to be regarded nothing would seem more unlikely than a coalition of France with these two powers. The campaign in Tonquin is looked upon with disfavor by England and such incidents as the search of the steamer Glenroy by a French man of war, mentioned in our dispatches this morning, only serve to widen whatever breach may have already been made in the relations of the two countries. It is possible various incidents of the past few months have been the result of other circumstances, but the present movements of Russia upon Afghanistan, the recent hauling down of the British flag at Cameroons by a German naval officer, and the attempt to declare rice as contraband of war on the Chinese coast, appear to be a series of attempts to exasperate the British government and lead it to take measures that will admit of retaliation by force. Whether this is true or not the result will be the same, and if Bismarck really desires a trial of strength with John Bull it will not be necessary to flourish a red rag before him long.

THE AUTHOR OF CIVIL SERVICE REFORM

Several phrases are current in the literature of civil service reform, such as "the inquisition for spoil," "tide-waiters," and "a searching operation of government," which are popularly supposed to have originated with George William Curtis or other prominent modern reformers, and in the opinion of many the movement begun with them. But those phrases were first employed by Daniel Webster, who is regarded by many of his friends, with whom he talked on the subject, as the author of civil service reform, and with good reason. When the federal offices were for the first time converted into the spoils of victory by the Jackson administration Webster was one of the first to feel and express a real alarm at the consequences of such a mercenary practice upon the future politics of the country. In general terms he witheringly denounced, as applicable to any administration of late years, except that of President Arthur, as to Jackson's, the working of the spoils system, and depicted its baleful consequences. At the republican convention at Worcester in 1832 he took up the then new maxim, "To the victors belong the spoils," and handled it under the light of history and, as was his custom, by the touchstone of the constitution. He showed that the framers of the constitution had omitted all reference to the president's power of removal from office, because it was believed by them that "no president would ever commit such an outrage on public opinion" as to make removals for party or personal objects. Madison, who thought the power ought to be given the president for use in an exigency, declared at the same time that a president who would use the removing power when not required by any public exigency would deserve to be impeached. Mr Webster went on to show how the power of removal had thus become "co-extensive with the executive will," how in the new order of things "one universal sweep, one undistinguishing blow had been leveled against all who were not of the successful party," and he held up special flagrant cases of proscription of faithful officials under the relentless greed of the new dispensation. He said:

As far as I know there is no civilized country on earth in which on a change of rulers there is such an inquisition for spoil as we have witnessed in this free republic. The inaugural address of 1829 spoke of a searching operation of government. The most searching operation sir of the present administration has been its search for office and place. When, sir, did any English minister, whig or tory, ever make such an inquest? When did he ever go down to low water mark to make an ousting of tide-waiters? When did he ever take away the daily bread of weighers and gaugers and measurers? Or when did he go into villages to disturb the little postoffices, the mail contracts or anything else in the remotest degree connected with government? Sir, a British minister who should do this and should afterwards show his head in a British house of commons would be received by universal hiss. * * * All this sir is perfectly natural and consistent. The same party selfishness which drives good men out of office will push bad men in. Political proscription leads necessarily to the filling of offices with incompetent persons and to a consequent maladministration of official duties. And in my opinion sir this principle of claiming a monopoly of office by the right of conquest unless the public shall effectually rebuke and restrain it, will entirely change the character of our government. It elevates party above country; it forgets the common weal in the pursuit of personal emolument; it tends to form, it does form, we see that it has formed a political combination united by no common principles or opinions among its members either upon the powers of the government or the true policy of the country, but held together simply as an association under the charm of a popular head, seeking to maintain possession of the government by a vigorous exercise of its patronage, and for this purpose agitating and alarming, and distressing social life by the exercise of a tyrannical party proscription. Sir, if this course of things cannot be checked, good men will grow tired of the exercise of political privileges. They will have nothing to do with popular elections. They will see that such elections are but a mere selfish contest for office and they will abandon the government to the scramble of the bold, the daring and the desperate.

This was not the utterance of mere partisan anger but of well-considered and firmly held conviction. Mr Webster returned to the subject again three years later in his speech on the appointing power. Describing the effects of the abuse of executive patronage on party politics under republican institutions, he showed how the exercise of the high right of suffrage and the forming of political opinions instead of being governed by public principle and patriotic duty were poisoned by the spoils system. "A compensation," he said, "ensues, not of patriotic efforts, not of rough and severe toils for the public good, not of manliness, independence and public spirit, but of complaisance, of indiscriminate support of executive measures, of pliant subserviency and gross adulation. All throng and rush together to the altar of man-worship, and there they offer sacrifices, and pour out libations, till the thick fumes of their incense turn their own heads, and turn, also, the head of him who is the object of their idolatry."

These powerful and exhaustive arraignments of the spoils system marked Mr Webster as a civil service reformer so plainly, that when General Taylor was elected president and desired to bring about a change in the system of appointments to office with successive promotion, something like that of the army, and not knowing well how a system of the kind could be carried out, and being disappointed in the failure of Mr Fillmore upon whom he had relied for aid in starting the scheme, called upon Mr Webster. And notwithstanding the fact that Mr Webster had publicly expressed the opinion that General Taylor was unfit to be president, he responded to the call and gave his approval to a scheme of civil service appointments similar in general principles to that which has lately been adopted, and promised, with others a hearty co-operation with the president. But General Taylor found himself overwhelmed with office-seekers and other troubles, and finally succumbed to the pressure and sank into the grave. Mr Fillmore on his sudden accession to the presidency found the pressure from office-seekers almost unendurable, and in despair also applied to Mr Webster, whom he had called to the position of secretary of state, for aid. Mr Webster at once took the subject into consideration and recommended, in a crude form, what has at last been reduced to the system of civil service appointments, and agreed, so far as he and his friends were concerned, to abide by the issue.

Mr Fillmore, or at least his friends, did not abide by it, for it is well known that many of his appointees in important offices selected their subordinates from those personally pledged to his re-election. But Mr Webster stood on the original ground agreed on between him and the president throughout, and did not depart from it, though some of his friends, especially in Massachusetts, did use their influence with some of the departments for appointments of Mr Webster's friends. Again, when California was admitted Mr Webster freely spoke to his friends in regard to civil service as being peculiarly adapted to the appointments of the new states. But Senator Gwin and Colonel Fremont, the new senators elect, did nothing to encourage the idea. Mr Webster died shortly afterwards. Though his advocacy of civil service reform and his efforts to promote it are not often mentioned among his great services to the country, it will be seen that he furnished substantially all the arguments that have since been used to secure its adoption.

The selection of two cabinet officers from one state has been criticised as an innovation. But President Cleveland has abundant precedents for his action. At one time John Adams' cabinet contained two members from Virginia, John Marshall, secretary of state, and Charles Lee, attorney general. President Jefferson, organized his cabinet with two members from the federalist state of Massachusetts, Henry Dearborn, secretary of war and Levi Lincoln, attorney general, and President Madison had two Pennsylvanians in his cabinet throughout his second term, A. J. Dallas, secretary of the treasury, and Richard Rush, attorney general. John Tyler made up his cabinet with Bibb and Wickliffe, both of Kentucky, in the treasury and the postoffice, and Polk had Walker in the treasury and Cave Johnson in the postoffice, both hailing from Tennessee. Buchanan's reconstructed cabinet contained two Pennsylvanians, Black and Stanton, and Lincoln had Usher and McCullough, both of Indiana, in his cabinet at one time. Grant, who hailed from Illinois, originally selected both Washburne and Rawlins, of that same state, for secretary of state and secretary of war. Washburne declined, but in the cabinet as actually constituted Massachusetts had two members, Boutwell in the treasury department and Hoar as attorney general.

American industries are not likely to suffer should England and Russia decide to settle the Afghan boundary question by the stern arbitrament of war. The Union metallic cartridge works of Bridgeport, Connecticut, has just received an order for 50,000,000 cartridges from England, and another of 100,000,000 from Russia. They are to be delivered as rapidly as made.

Baron Mohrenheim, Russian ambassador at Paris, says Russia will not declare war against England, and should hostilities be commenced it would be by a declaration of war on the part of England. In the meantime Russian troops keep moving a little nearer to the Indian frontier.

Union Pacific Land Sales.

Boston Transcript.

The largest land sales ever recorded in the United States in any one year outside of government transactions may be set down to the credit of the Union Pacific land department for the year 1884. The Union Pacific railway company had an original grant of 11,000,000 acres from the United States. Up to 1884 there had been sold from this grant only [illegible] acres, leaving 8,421,000 acres unsold. In 1884 there was sold of this land the enormous quantity of 4,348,202 acres, or nearly 40 per cent of the original grant. The price for this amount of land sold was $6,663,486. The price for which the 2,7[illegible] 000 acres sold previous to 1884 was $11,171,346. After deducting more than $3,000,000 for expenses and taxes, and adding the receipts for interest [illegible] this land grant has netted the Union Pacific $10,[illegible] up to 1884. The past year must have added more than $5,000,000 to this amount and there was on hand unsold at the beginning of 1885 3,95[illegible],000 acres worth perhaps $1 an acre, but which is being held and may yet realize $2 per acre. What this sale of more than 4,000,000 acres of land in [illegible] means [illegible] be better comprehended by reference to the fact that the public land entries and sales for the United States as reported by the general land office were considered very large when they reached 1,430,000 acres in 1883, and almost phenomenal when they reached [illegible],000,000 in 1884. The amount of bonds originally issued under the mortgage of this land grant was $10,400,000 and [illegible] $3,250,000 have been cancelled. These will be paid off [illegible] in the next four years. There will then remain from $16,000,000 to $20,000,000 of assets applicable to the redemption of the Union Pacific sinking fund bonds of which $3,8[illegible] 000 are now outstanding.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

THE STREET LIGHTING BUSINESS—Mayor Chapman yesterday vetoed the ordinance authorizing a contract with the U. S. Electric Light Co for lighting the city with electricity and oil. Several city officials were discussing the vexed question in a committee room at the council building yesterday. They seemed to prefer gas to oil, but insisted that the price demanded by the Gas Co, $3 90 per month for each lamp, too high. The price paid by San Francisco is $2 25 and they thought that if the gas company here would put their price down to $3 it would pay them and there would be no more talk of lighting with oil. The gas company probably know what is best for their own interest and whether they can or will come down to these figures remains to be seen. Some assert that an oil lamp will give as good a light as gas and at a less cost. The oil lamps now in use do not bear out this assertion. There is too much tendency to charred wicks, smoky chimneys and dirty lamps. A good burner, good oil, and a lamp properly cleaned and trimmed, will furnish a light good enough for all practical purposes. But to properly clean and trim an oil lamp so as to secure the best results, is a work requiring more time and care daily, than there is any probability of lamps furnished by contract receiving. There is a very general expression in favor of lighting two or three of the principal streets with electricity.

CRAZY ANTICS—Word was brought to the county jail yesterday that a crazy man was creating great excitement among the citizens in the vicinity of Sixth and B streets. Jailer Dougherty and Constable Higley at once started out to secure the maniac. They found him standing in front of the armory of the light battery, waving his hat and singing "Hail Columbia." His demonstrations had attracted a large crowd. Dougherty came to the conclusion that the fellow had been east, attending Cleveland's inauguration, and had gone crazy from excitement. He was a tall, rather slim young fellow, decently dressed but when an attempt was made to capture him he fought like a tiger. He was at length overpowered, handcuffed, his legs tied and lifted into an express wagon, where he was gagged with his hat and driven rapidly to the jail. On being unbound it was concluded that he was crazy—drunk. He was placed in a corridor where he stated that his name is Walter H. Ford, and that he had been employed some time since in driving one of the city carts. Just what he will think of his experience when he gets sober is his own lookout. A fellow who gets as crazy from drink as Ford does, had better join the Salvation army or go off and drown himself.

A BAD BOY—Peter Sykes, the old colored Mexican veteran who is about 100 years of age and every tooth in whose head is as sound as it was the day the set was turned over to him by his dentist, yesterday caused the arrest of William Martin on a charge of assault and battery. From the boy's story it appears that Sykes was investigating his chicken house yesterday morning to see whether it had been visited during the night by a delegation from the Lime Kiln club when the boy brought his bean shooter to bear upon a bird sitting on a fence, and missing his game the bean hit the chicken house in which Mr Sykes was. The aged warrior who had walked undismayed through showers of bullets at Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma did not come to this country to be bombarded in a chicken house, so he caused the boy's arrest on a charge of assault and battery. It appears that this lad Martin is on the shoot, as when another boy came over to his home to fight him he pulled a regular pistol from his hip pocket and scared the intruder away. For this he was arrested on another charge of assault and battery. As he is the son of a poor widow he was allowed to go on his own recognizance. That boy will have to confine himself to one shooting iron hereafter or he will be arrested till he can't rest.

STILL BEATING HIS WIFE.—The following from a late San Francisco paper is the same kind sort of an item that reporters here have written time and time again about the notorious maquerean Frank Hastings became infuriated at his wife last evening because she did not consider him as important a personage as he felt himself to be after imbibing a dozen or more half and halfs, and he belabored her soundly. The unfortunate woman's cries called Officers Quade and O'Donnell to her rescue, and they placed him under arrest. On the way to the jail Hastings attempted to strike his wife, who was sobbing and following the crowd, but his blow was cut short by an officer's club, which caused him to be taken to the receiving hospital for treatment of a badly-damaged arm.

THE OLD AND THE NEW SCHOOL CLERK.—The first official act of T. T. Struble, the newly elected school clerk, who qualified yesterday according to law, will be to pay the city teachers this afternoon, always a pleasant task. He has taken an office with Eugene D. White, in Union block, No 20 Stark street. The retiring clerk's last act was to write up the minutes of yesterday afternoon's meeting of the school board. This is a good time to remark that Mr Church, throughout the three years he has served the district, was uniformly attentive and courteous, and did his work well. The reporters of THE OREGONIAN thank him for numerous favors extended. During his term of office he added to his already large army of friends.

ST PATRICK'S NIGHT ENTERTAINMENT.—The coming entertainment of St. Patrick's night, under the auspices of the Catholic Dramatic and Musical Society, promises to be one of the most successful and interesting of the season. Judging from the proficiency exhibited at the different rehearsals the public may well be assured to enjoy a first-class performance. The sale of tickets is already very large. Aside from the address and drama, choice Irish ballads will be sung between acts by Mesdames Mancini Kenealy and Hanley. The music for the orchestra has been carefully selected from some of the most popular Irish melodies.

"ELEMENTS OF SUCCESS."—Rev. G. W. Chandler repeated this highly interesting lecture at Masonic hall last evening to a very refined and appreciative audience. Every seat in the hall was occupied, and by the manner the speaker was applauded proved the interest that was manifested by those present. The young people of the Taylor street M. E. church, under whose auspices it was given, deserve great credit for this success, and the proceeds, which will amount to about $50, will assist them in purchasing a new piano.

VERDICT FOR A TROTTING PURSE.—The jury in the case of J. K. Misner vs. R. B. Knapp and the other alleged stockholders of the North western District Agricultural Association yesterday found a verdict for the plaintiff for the sum claimed, $250, and for costs and disbursements. Misner entered his trotting mare, Walla Walla Maid, for a race at City View park to compete for a prize of $250 offered by the association, and, as he claimed, won the prize and failing to get it, brought suit for its recovery and has been successful.

VESSELS CHARTERED.—The American bark Coloma has been chartered from Hong Kong to this port, and will leave on the 10th of next month. The Alden Besse has been chartered for the Columbia river with an option for Puget sound and will sail on the 20th of April. Both will bring rice and Chinese general merchandise, but owing to circumstances over which the United States and the province of British Columbia have control, no live Chinaman will come.

TO SEE PRACTICAL WORKINGS.—The high school class has accepted an invitation to visit the works of the United States Electric Light and Power Company at the foot of Oak street, and will go one evening next week to see the practical workings of electrical machines. The boys should remember to leave their watches down stairs when they go up into the dynamo room or they may find their time pieces strongly magnetized when they come out.

THE STAGE

THE TIVOLI.—"The Orphan of Geneva" has proved a strong attraction at this popular house, and is nightly attracting elegant audiences. J. Harry Richmond gives a finished representation of Corwin. This character has been a favorite with all the leading actors, and was prominent in the repertoire of the late Edwin Forest. Mr Richmond has played the part most successfully in many of the principal theaters of America, and is justly entitled to the encomiums bestowed upon his efforts. Miss Lizzie Lingham appears to better advantage as Therese than in any character in which she has previously appeared. She was heartily applauded throughout. Mr and Mrs Langrishe, as the farmer and his wife, kept the audience in the best of humor. The play is well mounted, with new scenery and appointments. It will be repeated to-night and at the family matinee to day.

THE STATE VS. THE HOLLADAYS

District Attorney Gearin Asks that Ben's Note to Joe be Forfeited to the School Fund Because of Usury

Yesterday in the state circuit court, District Attorney Gearin commenced suit to have a note for $163,000, given to Joe Holladay by Ben, forfeited to the school fund of this county on the ground that it is usurious. The great suit between these brothers-in-law for the possession of the Holladay property in this state has caused a vast amount of business in the courts here, but now Mr Gearin proposes to introduce a new issue which may have the effect of bringing the case to a close before all concerned have gone where the property will be of no value to them.

Ben Holladay owed Joe a sum of money, and some eight years ago they had a settlement, and Ben gave Joe a new note for the principal and interest accrued at that date. The amount of this note was $163,000. It is alleged that this sum is some $13,000 more than was properly due Joe, who thus increased it by compounding the interest on his claim every month. This fact, it seems, has leaked out in the testimony taken in the suit of Ben against Joe. District Attorney Gearin has had his eye on the business for some time, and having concluded that he has now sufficient proof to make out his case, has obtained an order from Judge Smith citing Ben and Joe to appear before him and show cause why Gearin should not intervene between them and by having this note for $163,000 forfeited to the school fund, put an end to the struggle in which they are engaged. This sort of intervention shows a friendly spirit in Mr Gearin, who if he succeeds in his intention will pocket the tidy sum of $15,000, the legal 10 per cent., and will give the taxpayers of this school district a "Holladay."

Just what will become of the Holladay property if the school fund does not secure it, is uncertain. The receiver and the lawyers had concluded to divide it between them. Ben's creditors want it and have suits in both the state and U. S. courts to have the conveyance to Joe set aside as fraudulent, so that they can get it, and Joe, of course, wants it. This move on the part of Gearin promises to leave them all out in the cold. As for Ben perhaps the Lord will provide, but Joe will probably have to take his old and torn umbrella for a tent and camp on the city levee till evicted by Dundee Reid, in which case the —— will provide for him.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT CONTRACT

To the Honorable Mayor of the City of Portland Oregon. We the undersigned tax payers of the city of Portland … respectfully request you to veto the ordinance entitled An ordinance authorizing and directing a contract with the United States Electric Light and Power Company of Portland Oregon, for the following reasons:

First—As we understand from the ordinance only First and Third streets, from … to Market streets are to be lighted with electric lights and only until … o'clock P. M. which in view of such lights yet being an experiment causes the expense to be too great for giving so long a contract.

Second—The changing of all the gas to oil burners in all other streets of the city where gas is now used would give us an inferior light than what we now have and at greater expense. The first change and the many unforeseen expenses attending … taken into consideration and we believe would not give general satisfaction.

MURDER OR SUICIDE.

Inquiry into the Chinawoman's Death still Continued

No Poison Discovered in the Dead Woman's System but the Post Mortem Analysis is not yet Completed

Although Dr Rex has not yet finished his autopsy in the case of the dead Chinawoman now lying at the morgue, there is little doubt that she died of poison, and sufficient evidence was adduced at the coroner's inquest yesterday to warrant the statement that it was administered by her own hand. Accepting this as true, the charge of murder held against the woman will not hold.

The Inquest

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon Coroner Cooke resumed the taking of evidence in the case of Sue Yee, the Chinawoman supposed to have been poisoned. Taking wisdom from the previous night's session, all Chinamen not interested in the case as witnesses were excluded from the jury room, and thus the crowd was kept on the outside, where, being neither able to see nor hear anything, they did not linger long.

The first witness called was Dr William B. Watkins, who testified: I was called to see Sue Yee about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. She appeared to be suffering from an overdose of opium. My father, Dr W. H. Watkins, came before any antidotes were administered. We then gave her injections of sulphate of atropia and also an emetic. We were also told that she had taken opium, but the atropia did not dilate the pupils of her eyes, as usual in such cases.

Lin Qu, a Chinawoman, testified that she knew the deceased, but not the prisoner. She saw her, however, for the first time when she came to ask Sue Yee to go out to supper. Witness did not see Sue Yee again until the next morning when she was sick in bed. When asked what was the matter she did not speak—only shook her head. Witness was present when Sue Yee died.

Dr W. H. Watkins corroborated the testimony of his son, adding that some Chinaman had told him that they had given the woman some Chinese emetic. The doctor further stated that the symptoms were all those of opium-poisoning, and that the incidental excitement usually lasted longer among Chinese than with any other class. Witness did not believe opium could be given in drink without the person taking it being aware of the fact. Such a mixture might be drunk with one gulp, but the taste of opium would be very quickly perceptible.

Sing Yee, the prisoner, testified in English. She said deceased was her very good friend; had known her five or six years, ever since she came to Portland. Sue Yee ate supper at witness' house, with her and her husband. The day before witness met Sue Yee in the street and told her she was going away to China. Sue Yee said she would come and see witness before she went away, which she did at half past 10 o'clock that night. Their supper was brought from the restaurant, and consisted of fried pigeons, chickens, pastry and champagne. [This statement made the jurymen's mouths water.] The supper was all eaten, after which Sue Yee went home. Witness said she had no jewelry that ever belonged to the deceased, or had ever borrowed any money from her.

On cross-examination by her counsel the prisoner stated that Sue Yee said she would like to go back to China too, but she had no money. She also cried about the matter. Then witness said if Sue Yee would go home and get permission from her husband to go she would lend her the money to pay her expenses. Sue Yee went home and did not come back. They gave each other some trivial presents at parting. Witness went to see deceased about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Sue Yee was in bed but could not talk. When asked if Sue Yee was her friend the witness answered yes, and said she was very sorry, while the tears actually came into her eyes. She also denied that Ah Dak ever asked her for any money or jewelry as he had testified. She asked Ah Dak what made Sue Yee sick, and he said she had eaten tenshee, or ashes of opium.

Ah Soon the restaurant man who prepared the supper testified that there was no poison in any of the viands.

Sue Ah Chee testified that he knew the deceased and her husband; Wednesday about noon he was at their room; he saw deceased in bed; she said nothing about what made her sick.

Mow Hing testified to having a conversation with Ah Dak, the husband of the deceased. Ah Dak told him about 9 o'clock Wednesday morning that his wife wanted to go to China and he wouldn't let her, whereupon she took yenshee, and that was what made her sick. Cross-examination failed to make him change his testimony.

Wong Chung, husband of the prisoner, testified in corroboration of his wife, using good English in speaking.

Coroner Cooke then stated that there was no more testimony to be taken except that of Dr Rex, who would not be through with his autopsy before Monday. Accordingly the inquest was adjourned until Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

BRIEF MENTION.

The Chinese chicken-thief captured by Constable Higley was sent to jail for twelve days.

Tom Barrett, who was arrested by Policeman Holmberg for carrying a concealed weapon, was yesterday fined $25.

Judge Welty is attorney for Ah Dak, husband of the dead woman, instead of Judge Woodward, as misprinted yesterday.

The Bradner Smith Paper Company commenced action in the state circuit court yesterday to recover $235 47 from E. H. Brash.

Joseph Richardson, arrested for trespass and Tom Ward roaming the streets after midnight, were both fined $10 in the police court yesterday.

The steamer A. B. Field will soon commence regular trips from Astoria to Tillamook bay, and the O. R. & N. Co is ready to receive freight for her.

Sixty emigrants from St. Paul yesterday for Oregon and Washington, over the Northern Pacific, makes it look as if the spring tide of immigration had set in strong.

Thursday night the dwelling of W. J. Cromwell at Turner, Marion county, one of the finest in the town, burned to the ground. Most of the furniture was saved. Loss about $1100 insured.

W. H. Bartlett, a deserter from the United States army, and belonging to a troop stationed at Fort Walla Walla, was arrested last night by Policeman Brannan and will be taken to Vancouver to-day.

Suit was commenced in the state circuit court yesterday by A. Campbell et al, doing business under the firm name of the Union Iron Works, against George H. Chick & Co, to recover $115 31, a balance due on an open account.

The Saturday night temperance meeting will be held at W. C. T. U. hall to-night at 131 Fifth street, between Alder and Washington. Dr Hunt and others will address the meeting. Boys and fathers are especially urged to be present.

Passenger travel over the Oregon Short Line is picking up rapidly, as indicated in to-day's overland list. This line, although meeting with hard luck at first, is now in first-class running shape. It runs its cars through between Portland and Council Bluffs and Kansas City without change.

Notice to the Public.

I HAVE THIS DAY DISPOSED OF MY DIAmond Watch and Jewelry business, at the corner of First and Morrison streets, to Mr ALBERT FELDENHEIMER, who has been in my employ for the past eight years. In retiring from the business I have been engaged in for the past seventeen years in Portland, I wish to express my grateful acknowledgments for the generous patronage bestowed upon me; and take pleasure in recommending my successor as an honorable business man, every way worthy of public confidence.

I will still be found at my old place, where I will be happy to see my friends. And I especially urge those indebted to me to settle as early as possible. Bills will be receipted by myself or Mr. Albert Feldenheimer.

B. L. STONE.

Portland Oregon March 6 1885.

Referring to the above I desire in assuming the proprietorship of this establishment, to say that I shall put my best effort to maintain the high reputation Mr Stone has given to it and will endeavor to entitle myself to the liberal patronage he has enjoyed. The house will retain the name, "STONE'S JEWELRY STORE," by which it has been so favorably known.

I have perfected arrangements to import my stock direct, thus saving the commissions and profits of middlemen for the benefit of my customers. A large addition of new goods will immediately be made to my already large stock, and no pains will be spared to keep even with the times in the matter of variety, quality, styles and prices.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 14, 1885

COMMERCIAL.

FRIDAY, March 13

Weather clear and warm. The eastern section reports clear weather and California continued dryness.

The political situation abroad is more quiet and there is now small cause to expect a conflict of arms. Consols marked a steady decline to-day in the face of this calmer political feeling, and the grain markets found no substantial weakness.

Overland receipts include ... cs milk 41 cs oysters 110 qr 180 hf corn meal 1 bbl twine 129 pkgs tobacco 2 cs cigarettes ... kgs nails.

FREIGHTS—Quiet with no disposition shown to take up tonnage.

WHEAT—Market shows no change. There is almost nothing doing and receipts are light. Foreign markets are in neglect but show no price changes. Chicago opened a fraction higher on all but June options but lost strength and closed lower. Other American markets lost slightly toward the close.

OATS—Receipts large last night and mostly for account of jobbers. The market shows no change.

POTATOES—Weak and buyers are doing less. British Columbia and Puget sound are sending some to San Francisco.

EGGS—Heavy receipts cause a break in prices and 16c is accepted to-day. Some dealers are withholding supplies expecting smaller arrivals.

CHICKENS—Selling freely even at the high prices. Quote $5@6.

SHIPPING NOTES

The Br iron bark Remonstrant 104 tons arrived in to-day 48 days from Callao.

Str Columbia left out this morning and doubtless passed out to sea.

The British Monarch is at Columbia dock.

Of the fleet of vessels now headed this way there are several due this month. The Allahabad is 116 days out from Hong Kong and it is more than likely she will never be heard from although she may have put into some out of the way harbor through stress of weather. The Haidee from Liverpool is now at Victoria, and may be expected very soon. The Archer is 122 days out from Liverpool and may not arrive this month, vessels from the Atlantic not making rapid passages at this season. Quite a fleet is listed from west coast ports, the sailing dates of several being known. The Beach Holm is 61 days out from Antofagasta. Bernah 48 days from Valparaiso, Elma 5 days from Valparaiso, Kitty 48 days from Valparaiso and San Luis 44 days from Callao. All these are due. There is also listed the Lobo, Cassandra, Explorer and Oban Bay from Valparaiso and Edward Percy from Callao. These should have sailed late in January. The Explorer is considered doubtful and some of the others have not been reported to consignees here although there is little reason to question their coming. Later on will come the Haddingtonshire, now 18 its out from Rio and Tillie E Starbuck 118 days out from New York. With the exception of the Olive S Southard the entire list is due to arrive before or during August. The salmon trade will call for some tonnage in June. Four vessels sailed last June with salmon as part or bulk of cargo, two in July, two in August, and two in September. About the same number is employed each year for this business. Canning begins with April but foreign shipments are seldom prior to June.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, March 13.—Governments quiet. Railway bonds active and irregular. Stocks to-day were the dullest in many weeks. Not only was business extremely light, but the day passed without development of news having any material effect upon prices, and barring moderate fluctuations at the opening, and again during the last half hour, the market was listless and altogether as uninteresting as could be expected in midsummer.

The mining market was practically neglected during the morning.

THE BLACK BILL

PORTLAND, March 13

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Scio grange P. of H. have seen fit in a set of resolutions to exhibit its ignorance to the world by request to publish, wherein it assumes to censure T. J. Black and Henry Cyrus, members of the last legislature from Linn county—the one who formulated and the one who voted for the bill permitting it to be a matter of specific contract whether the borrower or lender shall pay taxes, where the rate of interest does not exceed 8 per cent. per annum. The high dudgeon of the grange seems to be because it imagines the bill to have destroyed the mortgage tax and usury laws at one fell swoop. Inasmuch as it does neither, I suppose the wrath of that enlightened body will finally die out or visit itself with awful intensity on some other object of its malevolence whenever some statesman from the forks of the Santiam shall desire to ruminate against somebody or something.

Black's bill saves taxation of mortgages to the counties where registered, which is right, and limits the rate of interest to 8 per cent per annum, where the borrower pays the taxes, which is a reduction of two per cent from the interest permitted by the usury law, and which is a fair offset for taxes, so that the objection made by money lenders that they could not guarantee a definite return from loans by reason of varying taxes under the old law was obviated, and altogether it was a very fair compromise between the irreconcilables on both sides, and every sensible and right minded person taking into consideration the differences confronting the lawmakers can only look on the Black law as a businesslike and commendable proposition, and Mr. Black and Mr. Cyrus are rather to be complimented than censured, particularly when the censure is based on false premises, which either proves Scio grange to be constituted of a set of ignoramuses or else their credulity has been worked upon by some designing person smarter than they are.

Were it not that a few intractables in the state could lift up their petitions through the grange, nothing could be said against so wise a measure as the aforesaid bill, which, so far as I can learn, gives good satisfaction where its provisions are understood. Yours,

C

Talk about Blaine.

Washington Special

Governor Dingley of Maine, who is one of Blaine's intimate friends, says the republican leader has ceased to talk politics and is apparently oblivious that he was ever a presidential candidate. He says Blaine is working away industriously at his book and enjoys it thoroughly. "The last volume will probably be completed in June," the governor says, "and Blaine will then return to Augusta for the summer as usual."

"Will he continue his literary labors after his present work is finished?" was asked.

"I cannot say positively, but I assume that he will. The cast of his mind is strongly literary and it is not improbable that he will devote the next few years to work of that character."

"Do Blaine's friends encourage the idea that he will receive another nomination in 1888?"

"I assure you upon my honor, that such a subject is never mentioned to him. Blaine absolutely refuses to listen to such suggestions even from those who know him best. I can tell you further that Blaine never desired the nomination in 1884. I don't mind telling you, now the election is over, about a talk I had with him a week before the Chicago convention. Said he: 'I don't want this nomination. I know I am accused of intriguing for it, but you know better. I don't believe the republicans can win this election. They have been in power too long and there are too many differences among them. The times are dull, business is depressed and thousands of men are lying idle. All this militates against the success of the dominant party. When wheat is selling at 50 cents a bushel the party in power may as well prepare to evacuate.'"

"You don't think, then, he ever expected to be elected?"

"Honestly I do not. How could he with those views? Of course he strained every nerve to bring about that result, but he always felt that the attempt was in vain. Mr. Blaine believed he could not be elected for the reasons I have given you—the dull times and the long continuance of his party in power. His conclusions had no element of superstition about them, but they were drawn from hard, cold facts."

POLITICAL PITH.

The south and west will not abandon silver even to please the president. There will be a big split right there if this issue be forced.—Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle.

George H. Pendleton of Ohio will represent the civil service reform idea of the new administration—on the outside, where there is plenty of room and no responsibility.—Philadelphia Press.

If the president's inaugural faithfully reflects the views of the democratic party it must be admitted that the two great political organizations of the country are occupying about the same camping ground.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Mr. Cleveland is discovering, if he has not discovered it before, that the democratic party is a very loose bundle of sticks and one very difficult to bind up compactly. Some of the sticks are for ever falling out.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

If Mr. Cleveland shall succeed in making that (the negro's citizenship) the creed of the democratic party as it is already the creed of the republicans, we shall be obliged to find some new line of demarcation upon which to divide hereafter.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

The prohibitionists of the St. John kind claim now that their party is organized in thirty-four states. It must have cost the democrats a heap of money, judging from St. John's price.—N. Y. Tribune.

THE EAST SIDE.

NEW LAWS IN FORCE

A certified transcript of the bill amending the corporate act of East Portland and also of the bill to regulate the East Portland fire department, passed at the recent session of the legislature, were received by the city recorder yesterday. Both these acts contain emergency clauses, and having been approved by the governor and duly delivered to the city, are now in full force and effect. A synopsis of the amendments to the city charter have already been published, and it remains only to mention the leading features of

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT BILL

This provides that the fire department shall consist of a chief engineer, two assistants, president, secretary, treasurer, board of fire delegates, and such companies as may be duly admitted; election of chief and assistants to take place annually on the first Monday in December, polls to be open from 6 to 9 P. M., the chief to receive an annual salary not to exceed $200, to be fixed by the common council, and to commence his term of office the 1st of January; the qualification of voters to consist of membership for sixty days, each company to elect three representatives to the board of fire delegates at their annual meeting in April; the board empowered to make laws to govern every officer, member and company, offenders to be tried by the board, and censured, suspended, removed from office or expelled the department, the board to recommend to the council all engineers of steam engines, salary to be fixed by the council and paid by the city, and no application to be entertained by the council if not recommended by the board; engine companies to consist of not less than thirty members nor more than seventy; hose companies not less than fifteen nor more than thirty-five, and hook and ladder companies not less than twenty nor more than fifty. In case of membership being reduced to less than minimum number, the board to decide whether company shall be continued or disbanded; the chief to make report to council at its first meeting in July the status of the department, fire record for the year, expenses, etc.; firemen of active service for seven consecutive years to be entitled to exempt certificate releasing them perpetually from jury and militia service, and for this purpose the time of membership in the department as heretofore organized is to be computed.

Under this act the first board of fire delegates will be elected at the regular meeting of the different companies next month.

A BRIDGE OF SIGHS

A novel bridge has just been erected on the Milwaukie road, near the old Brooklyn mill site. It appears that the road supervisor who superintended the work calculated on making a fill at one end of the bridge, but his calculations in this respect failed to materialize for some reason, and in lieu thereof the bridge was continued to meet the roadway, causing a "patch" at an angle of about forty-five degrees for a rod or more. The supervisor can depend upon the blessings of teamsters while the bridge lasts in its present condition.

HORSE STOLEN

I. N. Sanders, county clerk, who resides on Fourteenth and I streets, was surprised yesterday morning at finding his horse missing, having disappeared during the night, leaving no clue to its whereabouts. It was secured in the stable as usual the night previous, and there is no reasonable explanation to its disappearance but theft. It has not yet been heard from.

A DISPUTED HORSE.

A case comes up in Justice Simpson's court to-day wherein a Mr Hunter sues Charles Prettyman for the recovery of a horse. It appears that Mr Prettyman took up the horse and posted it, and Hunter had the marshal replevin the animal, claiming that it had not been legally posted. Mr Prettyman afterwards recovered possession of the animal by giving bonds for its return to the marshal in case the suit went against him. It will probably develop to-day whether Hunter is liable for the costs of taking up, which he disputes, which appears all that is necessary to settle the matter.

DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT

The Library Aid Dramatic and Literary society presented "Among the Breakers" to an unusually large and intelligent audience last evening, a fact which demonstrated the willingness of the public to second the meritorious efforts of the society toward establishing a free library in East Portland. The characters were assumed entirely by local talent, and the fact that the audience were not only satisfied but pleased with the performance, is praise sufficient, while each individual effort received its due meed of appreciation. The flattering reception of the initial performance of the society should encourage them in their laudable object, the attainment of which, in view of last evening's demonstration, is dependent only upon their continued efforts. A fine orchestra was an enjoyable feature of the entertainment, and an innovation duly appreciated.

NOTES

Rev. S. P. Wilson will discuss the merits of the new local option law at the M. E. church Sunday evening.

The public schools will undergo examination next week, the term ending on Friday.

The room at the rear of Odd Fellows' hall has been engaged for the new schoolroom for the primary department.

Mr Hillery Caton and wife, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs J H Carney, at Seattle, for the past two weeks, have returned home.

NOTABLE DEAD.

GENERAL JOSEPH H. TAYLOR

OMAHA, March 13.—Joseph H. Taylor, assistant adjutant general of the department of the Platte, died of pneumonia at his residence, to-night. He was a nephew of Zachary Taylor, and a son of Joseph P. Taylor, commissary general of the army. His paternal grandfather was Richard Taylor of revolutionary fame. Deceased was a West Point graduate, of the class of 1856, and served on the staff of General Sumner, of the army of the Potomac, throughout the rebellion. He gained celebrity by his effective work in bringing Lincoln's assassins to the gallows.

A CARD OF THANKS.

PORTLAND, March 13, 1885.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

On the eve of my departure for Washington ... Mexico I want to say a few words.

The cordial ... and cordial ... with which my aspirations have been justified and endorsed by ... the press and ... in Oregon and Washington territory has made me realize that ... magnificent ... the good will of my friends. ... that all the testimonials I have received ... they are not deserved by the past ... must be considered as payments made in advance and I will endeavor to earn them later.

A Point on the Inaugural Address

Philadelphia Bulletin

The word Union is carefully omitted in every part of the document. This is in deference, doubtless, to the members of the new cabinet, the senators and the representatives in congress, and the confederate brigadiers who, after trying to destroy the Union, voted for Mr. Cleveland and praised it. It is a graceful act of courtesy on the part of the writer of the inaugural address to exclude allusion to the odious thing, and to the struggle for its preservation by the republican party against the ...

... REVOLUTION WITHIN A REVOLUTION

...nce Ready for Revolutionary Measures Under Certain Contingencies

PART FIRST

... R. S. Ripley Ready to Resign from the Service of the Confederacy and Enter that of the State of South Carolina

CHARLESTON, Dec. 25, 1864.

...r: Late events and orders have suggested ... propriety and necessity of addressing you on ... subject of the past defence of South Carolina, and my connection therewith and the ...vice of the confederacy.

...s well known to your excellency that when ...th Carolina stood alone at the call of the ...ecutive I resumed military labors and re...nsibilities then for some years laid aside. ... duties devolving upon me were performed ...e extent of my abilities, and resulted in a ...cess in which, to some degree, I was an as...nt. Notwithstanding, it was soon apparent ..., from some reasons seemingly personal, ...recognition of past and little assistance in ...re efforts were to be expected from the ...f confederate authorities so far as I was ...cerned, and believing that my usefulness ...ld be much abridged, I was ready to leave ... military service, the immediate object for ...ch the governor of South Carolina had called ...n me having been accomplished. At the in...ce of the authorities, and upon the urgent ...resentation of many citizens of the state, to ...effect that my services were still necessary, ...nsented to remain during the period of dan... Events progressed, the fortunes of the ...federacy looked bright, and although many ... had been my juniors in former service, and ... in the cause than I, were preferred before ...for no apparent reason, I devoted myself to ...paring a defence for these people with ...m I had cast my lot.

... the urgent importunity and demand of the ...e majority of the citizens of the metropolis, ...lly, in August, 1861, the confederate execu... conferred upon me the rank which I have ...e held, charging me with the duty of de...ding the whole coast of South Carolina. ... task was Herculean, previous preparations ...mportant points had been small, time was ...t, but, nevertheless, every exertion was ...e to do all which could be hoped for. Port ...al fell soon after my assuming the com...d. For this I was not immediately respon...e, but the causes were to be found in the ...ural and material advantages for its attack. ...ops were raised the command which I had ... was merged in a larger, and my duties ...ame concentrated more especially on the de...e of Charleston and its vicinity. To that ... my whole energy was devoted.

...did not wish to invite attack nor cause victo...o be won at the expense of the loss of pros...ty, the devastation of private property, and ...misery of women and children driven from ...r homes. My object was by preparation to ...n the enemy of the danger of his attack so ...ngly that he would leave our helpless ones ...armed and permit our non-combatant popu...on to be usefully employed. The then com...der of the department in the main concur...n my views, and gave me full assistance. ...upon a change taking place, in the spring of ..., came a change of policy. I was ordered to ...y out measures which I then believed, and ...ch events have proven to be, most disas...s, including the evacuation of the most im...tant strategic point of approach to Charleston ... the richest granary of the state. These I ...ceed as far as military propriety would per..., and when unsuccessful, as a large portion ...ur forces were going to the defence of the ...federate capital, I applied for orders and ...ceeded thither. The campaign of the seven ... and the first invasion of Maryland followed. ...e greatest number of battles included I ...ed sometimes as a brigade, at other times as ...vision commander.

...uring a short leave of absence while recov...g from a wound, at the request of the dele...on in congress from South Carolina and ...rgia and of the governor of the former state, ...s returned to this department and assigned ...e command which I had before exercised. ... evacuation of Cole's island had brought its ...lt in a standing occupation of the harbor of ...Stono by the enemy, although, under Provi..., the gallantry of our soldiers had foiled ...nearer approach to Charleston. The labors ...ommand were increased many fold, and it ... soon well known that a novel method of ...k by sea, prepared with all the ingenuity ... mechanical skill of our enemies, for our ...dy destruction was to be sustained. With ... deficiencies in material, to prepare to repel ... attack was my care. In the task, although ...e were some matters of administration which ...boded future disasters, and which I did not ...ple to mention, I had the countenance and ...stance of the commander of the department. ... attack came, and the victory of the 7th of ...il, 1863 having been provided for by long ...nths of preparation and practice, was easily ...n.

...oon after there arose cause of dissatisfaction ...myself and other officers in the suppression ...roper military reports and the publication of ...s, but the danger threatening overshad...ed everything of a personal character. The ...my having been foiled in his personal attack, ...menced his approaches against Morris Is..., and it was illy provided for defense at its ...thern extremity. The charge of such provi... had, by an order which was one of the mat... of administration lately referred to, been ...ed under staff officers, by whom it was neg...d. I had no immediate responsibility, but, ...ng the vital importance of the position, un...ook, with the labor of our soldiers, to supply ... deficiency at the point of the enemy's ap...ch, while the labor furnished by our citi... (who have been more or less directly ...ged with unwillingness to provide) was be...expended miles away. Some progress was ... and the enemy was checked ... a time, but on the rep...ntation of staff officers, whose authority ...istence I certainly would not recognize, I ... reported for disobedience of orders. My ...n was checked. The matter was confined ...e direction of those who had previously ...ected it. Next to nothing was accom...ed during three weeks, and on the 10th of ... the enemy attacked the weak position by ... and sea with a force which soon over...med its small garrison. He gained his ..., whence, with the powerful numbers and ... mechanical and material resources at ...posal, the reduction of Morris island was ... question of time. That time was pro...ed by our gallant soldiers until the 6th of
